2nd witness tells of seeing payoff

By GARY SCHNEIDER

Press-Record Staff Writer
Charlene "Kitty" Young, a former operator of the Club J Lounge which housed prostitution activities, testified Friday in federal court at Alton that she witnessed her late husband, Walter Young, giving an envelope of money to former Sheriff John Maeras in the lounge during the summer of 1972.

Mrs. Young was among witnesses at the trial of Maeras, Capt. John Cooper of the sheriff's department, and fundraiser Leland Stoller of Nashville, Tenn. The latter conducted fund-raising activities for the now defunct Madison County Deputy Sheriff's Association.

She is the second witness in the week-long trial to tell of a alleged payoff to Maeras. Testimony will resume tomorrow.

Under cross-examination by Bruce Cook of Belleville, attorney for Maeras, Mrs. Young said she did not actually see the envelope touch Maeras' hand, because her husband was between her and Maeras and blocked her vision. She testified that she saw "like, an exchange."

She stated that her husband reached in his back pocket, removed an envelope and swung it toward Maeras. "I saw the envelope when it came around in front of my husband and when his hands came down, he had no more envelope," Mrs. Young said.

She testified she and her husband had been paying from $50 to $100 per week for protection from raids by the sheriff's department and that her husband decided to pay Maeras personally one time "because we were concerned whether Maeras was getting the money."

Cook emphasized that Mrs. Young did not actually see the envelope touch Maeras and noted that, a short time later, the tavern was raided, with deputies participating in the raid.

Cook also questioned why Mrs. Young's witnessing of the payoff was not brought out by questioning during the trial last summer of Ronald Grzywacz, Edward Goclan and Richard Krieschok, although Mrs. Young was a witness at that trial and was asked to whom she gave payoffs.

She answered at that time that she delivered payoffs to Cooper and Grzywacz.

She said Friday, "I was informed that Maeras was not on trial (during the June-July 1978 trial)." She also said she did not mention the alleged payoff because "I wasn't asked."

Cook disagreed, quoting questions from the transcript of the Grzywacz trial in which she was asked to whom payoffs were delivered and to which she repeatedly answered Cooper and Grzywacz.

The defense attorney also noted discrepancies between Mrs. Young's testimony at the summer trial and in Friday's statements as to the date on which Cooper and Grzywacz approached her and her husband the first time for payoffs.

Cook said her first estimates of when they were approached for payoffs was the fall of 1970, which would have been before Maeras was sheriff. During Friday's testimony, she said she thought she and her husband were approached in February 1971. Cook asked her if she had decided to change the date because she realized Maeras was not seated until December 1970.

She said she "made a mistake," and realized after the trial that the dates she gave were wrong. She told FBI agents of the error, she related.

"Are you going to say, 'I'm sorry,' to Mr. Grzywacz?" Cook asked, referring to Grzywacz' conviction of racketeering and perjury, and Mrs. Young responded, "I have no reason to help him."

Cook said that none of the FBI reports prepared after interviews with Mrs. Young make reference to her saying she saw her husband hand Maeras an envelope.

Mrs. Young said she believes the envelope that was "swung" by her husband in front of Maeras contained money, because she had just prepared two envelopes the night before, one for the tavern's petty cash and the other containing payoff money.

On the payoff envelope, she always wrote the word "Man," which was used in her home as synonymous for "law enforcement official," she said.

Asked if she was sure her husband gave Maeras the envelope containing payoff money, Mr. Young responded, "I'm sure he didn't give him the petty cash. He must have given him the one for the man."

She said former Assistant State's Attorney Marshall "Zeke" Smith was with Maeras on that visit to the tavern, but was inspecting another part of the tavern with the day manager when Mr. Young swung the envelope near Maeras.

She said Grzywacz had called the day before the "inspection" of the tavern by Maeras and Smith and had warned them the sheriff would be visiting. The caller suggested they turn one bedroom into a storeroom and tell Maeras the other bedroom was for a night watchman, the jury was told.

Mrs. Young also testified that she and Mr. Young also testified that she and

New post at SIU

A new structure of governance for the Southern Illinois University system was approved Thursday by the SIU Board of Trustees at its February meeting on the local campus. The changes are effective immediately.

The chief executive officer of the new structure was designated as the chancellor. The presidents are to be the chief executive officers of the two universities, reporting directly to the chancellor.

The position of general secretary of the system was abolished, as well as the System Council. James M. Brown of Carbondale, general secretary, was named acting chancellor until a permanent chancellor is appointed.

The board resolution establishing the new structure also provides that the Board of Trustees will act as a committee of the whole, to be named the Board Chancellor Search Committee, to undertake a nationwide search for someone to fill the position of chancellor.

The resolution also establishes a Chancellor Search Assistance Council, with representation from faculty, students, employees and alumni, to assist in selection of the chancellor. The board said its actions were taken in response to recommendations by the board's Ad Hoc Committee on Governance, which was appointed by Chairman Harris Rowe on Jan. 23. The committee was asked to review information previously received by the board regarding governance, and to make recommendations.

William Norwood, chairman of the committee, said changes in governance were recommended because the existing system, with a president for each campus and a general secretary — who managed the board staff and who served as chairman of the System Council — was inflexible and led to disagreement.

He said the most compelling reason for change was to provide SIU with "one voice" externally, particularly in relations with state agencies.

Public hearings on governance were held by the board on each campus Edwardsville and Carbondale, in October and November 1978. Most who spoke opposed such a change.

Robber wields knife

Holding a knife at the throat of an employee with his left hand, an armed robber took an undetermined amount of money from the cash register at the Hit and Run Food Store, 4601 Maryville Road, at 11:46 p.m. Thursday.

The robber was described as between 20 and 25 years of age, wearing a blue cap and black leather type coat, about five feet eight inches tall, weighing 140 pounds and with shoulder-length brown hair.

According to a store employee the man was in the store earlier in the day, purchased some beer and inquired about the store closing hours.

Returning in the evening, the robber went to the beer cooler, took a quart of beer and went over to the checkout counter where he pulled the knife and demanded money.

He told the store employee not to make a sound as there were others with him outside who had a shotgun.

The robber fled the store on foot, heading west on Orville Avenue.

First Ward Alderman Phillip Daniels, 27, of 202 Abbott St., became acting mayor of Venice at 11:21 a.m. Saturday following the drawing of a slip of paper out of a cigar box. The slip had "winner" printed on it.

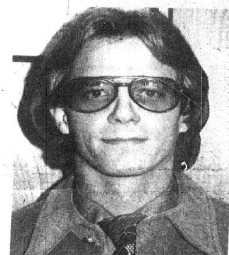

A second slip drawn by Fourth Ward Alderman Tyrone Echols was blank. The Venice City council had been in a 4-4 deadlock between Daniels and Echols and was taken to court by two city employees, Vernon Brown, a McKinley Bridge employee, and Cpl. Ferris Smith of the Venice Police Department.

City officials and aldermen were served summons Feb. 6, ordering them to appear at 9:30 a.m. Saturday in courtroom nine at the Madison County Courthouse, Edwardsville.

businessmen's association. Expansion of the police department and increased use of surveillance and warning devices were agreed upon. The robbery-slating of a longtime furniture store owner has focused increased attention on crime prevention and detection. (Press-Record Photo)

Dutko urges more police

Despite announcement earlier that another policeman will be hired to help meet Madison businessmen's desire for anti-crime programs, concern was voiced at Tuesday night's City Council meeting over whether the expansion is definite or only potential.

After Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk talked about electronic surveillance equipment, Second Alderman Frank Dutko questioned when the city would be hiring more policemen.

Mayor Sasyk replied, "We are having a finance committee meeting next Tuesday, where we will go over the city finances and see if we can afford more police."

Dutko, a retired Madison policeman and police chief, said, "In my 27 years as a policeman, one thing I did learn is you have to have police on the streets to apprehend criminals. I'd rather see more police than these gadgets."

Mayor Sasyk replied, "We're governed by our finances and will see what the finance committee recommendation is."

"We do need more police, but we have to find ways to raise money. Can you come up with any, Frank? We may spend $10,000 on the new prevention devices, but it costs us $20,000 for another policeman."

Dutko said, "According to the papers, you told the merchants at a meeting the city would be hiring a policeman within four to six weeks, as soon as the police commissioners made their recommendation. Why is it we never seem to have money to hire policemen?"

"I'd like the police commissioners to present us with two new names right now. You don't train a policeman overnight. You have to send him to school. He has to learn in the field."

"I am not sure all the merchants are as eager for more types of these alarm systems as we seem to think," Dutko said.

The mayor asked Alderman Thomas Gordon, chairman of the aldermanic finance committee, if he will be available Tuesday at 7 p.m. to review the financial situation for the first nine months of the current budget, and added that all aldermen will be welcome to attend.

Gordon agreed to have the committee meet and then make a recommendation at the next council meeting Feb. 20.

"No one has a sure cure for crime prevention," Sasyk said. "We have to try new ideas and let people know about them. I am suggesting that we have special money clips in cash registers that will set off a silent alarm light on the building, flashing to alert the neighborhood, plus pocket alarms that will alert the police station directly. The cost will only be about $75 to our merchants."

"I would also like to have the police committee research and apply for a federal grant that would allow us to install video-tape cameras at the basic six entrances and exits to the city."

"This would be controlled at the police station and could be activated and begin recording every auto coming in and out of the city. Additional lighting would be installed for night," Sasyk said.

Wallpapering clinic Feb. 22

The Granite City Park District will sponsor a wallpaper clinic on Thursday, Feb. 22, at the Namook Recreation Center.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lombardi, owners of Lombardi's Paints and Interiors, will present a program, along with a representative from a wallpaper company in St. Louis.

A movie will be shown describing how to prepare your wall, match wallpaper, go around corners, wallpaper a ceiling, etc.

After the movie there will be a question and answer period as well as a live demonstration. Mr. and Mrs. Lombardi will answer such questions as—what type of wallpaper to choose and where it can best be used. New ideas and instructions for decorating a house or an apartment will be available.

No charge will be made for the clinic. Those planning to attend, however, are required to register in advance at the Wilson Park office, or by calling 877-3089 between 9 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Courthouse 'stake-out'

An investigative "stake-out" in the Madison County Courthouse was reported to federal trial jurors last week by Gary Lee Burns, a witness at the trial of former Sheriff John Maeras and others.

Burns told of introducing former Madison policeman Ronald Grzywacz and defendant John Cooper to Myrene Stewart, operator of Myrene's Steakhouse in the Alton area.

Grzywacz and Cooper allegedly demanded money for the sheriff if she was going to continue to operate prostitution, Burns testified. He said he was told Grzywacz and Cooper were conducting an investigation for the sheriff into alleged payoffs to deputies, but that the investigation lasted only a short time.

He testified Wednesday that at one time Elaine Prince, described as a friend of Grzywacz, told him that Walter Young, operator of the Club J, another prostitution operation, wanted to give Burns $1,000.

"The money was supposed to be from Walter Young. That's what I was told," Burns said, adding that he called Young and arranged a meeting in the courthouse the day that some of the prostitutes from the Club J were to go on trial.

He then notified State's Attorney Eyrone Cooper, Robert Rizzi and Maeras and they agreed to set up a stake-out in the courthouse, he related.

Burns was not given an opportunity to complete the story, but his grand jury testimony indicated Young did not offer him money.

Burns also said during cross-examination that it was common for him, as president of the former deputy sheriff association, to pre-sign blank checks for defendant Leland Stoller and Stoller's employees to use to pay fund-raising bills.

Conrad "Pete" Baetz, as the association's treasurer, also presigned some, since both signatures were required before the checks could be cashed, Burns testified.

Arrested after drive-in action

Rick D. Leneave, 21, of 2901 Emzee St., was arrested at 3:10 a.m. Friday and charged with battery, following an incident at Jack-In-The-Box restaurant, 3330 Nameoki Road.

Danny Williams, manager, said Leneave was using loud profane language over the microphone from the drive-in service window and he walked outside and warned Leneave to stop, else he would have to leave.

It was alleged Leneave got out of his auto and struck Williams in the face with his fist and then started fighting the manager.

A police officer arrived at the restaurant and reported seeing Leneave on top of Williams.

Two employees also said they saw the incident.

Park District plans 'Masterpiece Tour'

The Granite City Park District is planning a "Masterpiece Tour" of the St. Louis Art Museum's exhibition to be known as Vanity Fair and displaying four centuries of fashion from the Costume Institute of the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

The exhibition looks back over the past 400 years at the inventiveness with men and women have indulged their fancies and celebrated their vanity, a spokesman said.

On view through April 1, this exhibition presents many of the most luxurious and extraordinary items from the Costume Institute's collection of more than 30,000 items, he added.

Included is the clothing of queens and the livery of servants, as well as hats, ribbons, shawls, shoes, pocketbooks, embroidered waist-coats, jackets, hoop skirts, dresses with bustles, court dresses with trains, ball gowns from the designer Worth of Paris, clothing by famous couturiers of the 20th century, and one entire room filled with 19th century white cottons.

The exhibition includes vibrantly colored vibrantly colored harem costumes worn by women in Turkey and in the Balkans in the 19th and 20th centuries; embroidered satin Chinese dresses and robes worn in Shanghai in the early 1900s; jewel-encrusted court dresses from 16th and 19th

Mrs. Wahrenberg dies

Mrs. Margaret (Hornes) Wahrenberg, 82, a Granite City resident for 68 years, died at 2:35 p.m. Thursday at the Madison County Nursing Home in Edwardsville.

She had been ill three years and had resided at the nursing facility for the same period.

Before that time, Mrs. Wahrenberg had lived for many years in the 2300 block of Hodges Avenue.

She was born in Windheim, Germany, and had come to Granite City in 1910.

Mrs. Wahrenberg was a member of Concordia Lutheran Church and the Ladies Aid of the church.

Her husband, Henry W. Wahrenberg, who was widely known in the community, died Feb. 6, 1974.

Surviving are two sons, Fred and Henry Wahrenberg, both of Granite City; Mrs. Charles (Estelle) Ogle Punta Gorda, Fla.; one brother, Carl Young, of Farmington, Mo.; three grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

increases they may have received in their 1978 assessments on which tax bills will be based this summer.

Filing of applications has been under way since mid-January when a mail program was initiated by the assessors of Granite City and Venice townships.

They later were joined by groups in Nameoki and Chouteau townships which distributed prepared forms and information concerning the reduction. Because of individual township multiplying factors being applied by the Madison County Board of Review to all county real estate valuations, nearly every homeowner will receive higher assessments this year, increasing their tax bills in proportion to the valuation.

The state-authorized cutback up to Man, woman charged

Rose Marie Masters, 18, of 2313 Miracle Ave., and James Stogdill, 26, of Granite City, have been charged with the Feb. 3 burglary of the Taco Hut, 2868 Madison Ave., in which a total of $1,114 was taken from a floor safe.

Informational documents were issued last week by the Madison County state's attorney's office, charging both with burglary.

After being notified of a warrant being issued, Miss Masters reported to the Granite City police station at 11:10 a.m. Thursday.

She appeared before a judge at 3 p.m. Thursday and pleaded innocent. Bond was set at $10,000 and she was released on her own recognizance.

Stogdill, also advised a charge was outstanding against him, was given permission to turn himself in to the Madison County sheriff's office, which he did at 3 p.m. Wednesday.

He appeared in court Friday and bond was set at $25,000.

Miss Masters had been questioned about the burglary by GC Detective Anthony Eck on Feb. 5, and was released pending application for a warrant.

She is a former employee of the Taco Hut, the detective said.

There was no sign of forced entry into the restaurant nor the safe, leading police to believe someone used a key and knew the combination of the floor safe.

Wannie Williams services held

Funeral services were held at 11 a.m. today for Wannie P. Williams, 90, who died at his home in Mulberry Grove, Ill., Feb. 7.

He was the father of Kenneth Williams, Madison, retired principal of Louis Baer elementary school in Madison.

Mr. Williams operated an ice and coal business in Madison for 17 years until he moved in 1944.

He was a member of Odd Fellows Lodge 1031 of Madison.

In addition to his son, he is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mathilde Williams, four grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are listed in today's obituary column.

Deadline

$1,500 may be claimed in its entirety this year. If the assessment increase is smaller, the homeowner may claim the amount of the increase as a cutback, and use whatever is remaining of the $1,500 total in future years.

James Barton, county supervisor of assessments, said an earlier requirement that the $1,500 be used within the next three years has been removed, and that the amount may be used over any number of years.

Multiplying factors have been applied in 21 of the county's 24 townships to increase assessments to a 33.33 percent cash value ratio required by the Illinois Department of Government Affairs.

Applications for the assessment cutbacks are being received in some instances by township assessors who refer them to the county assessing officials.

Otherwise, homeowners may send their applications directly to the supervisor of assessments at the Madison County Courthouse, Edwardsville.

Applicants are asked to enclose their property parcel number, which can be obtained from a previous tax bill, and give the amount of the property assessment.

In Chouteau Township, application forms are available at the township hall. A group of residents in Nameoki Township have been circulating the forms, which also are available at the town building.

TRUCK CB STOLEN

Gary Rapp, 3720 Carrell Road, reported a 23-cub foot citizen band radio van, valued at $100, stolen from his pickup truck, parked in the K-Mart lot between 8:45 a.m. and 9 p.m. Friday.

Tina Topal, 2091 (rear) 13th St., reported the theft of her 1976 silver colored Nova at 7:40 p.m. Thursday. It was the second time the vehicle had been stolen in three days.

Mrs. Topal said the auto was stolen Feb. 5 when she had left the car running in front of her home. It was recovered a few hours later at Baker's Drive-In, 1371 Edwardsville Road, but the keys were missing.

At 7:30 Thursday evening, the vehicle was again stolen while locked and parked outside her home, Mrs. Topal said.

It was recovered at 8:50 p.m. Thursday by Madison County deputies, parked at the rear of Steiber's School in State Park Place.

Rules of Road classes set

Rules of the Road classes for senior citizens renewing their car licenses will be held Feb. 21 and 22 at the Granite City Township Center, it was announced at a meeting of the Granite City council of Senior Citizens.

President Ruby Corbitt opened the meeting with the Lord's Prayer. She announced that the Senior Citizen Fair will be held at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville in March. The group is asking for donations of handmade items to sell at the Granite City booth. Proceeds will go to the council for operating expenses.

Assumes duties as patrolman Friday

Michael B. Chosich, appointed by the City Council last week as a probationary patrolman on the Granite City Police Department, will assume his duties Friday and will start a six-week basic law enforcement training course at Belleville Area College Feb. 26, it was reported today.

Chosich, 30, and his wife Nancy live at 2240 Lynch Ave. They have two children, Christy, 10, and Steve, 8, both attending Nameoki School.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard (Mary) Chosich, 1825 Bremen Ave., and is a 1966 graduate of Granite City High School.

Chosich has worked at auto body repair for ten years, most recently at Abel's Auto Body Shop, and presently is working on a law enforcement degree at BAC.

3 held in burglary, beating

Responding to a burglary call at the home of Michael Blattner, 2524 Madison Ave., at 11:20 p.m. Wednesday, officers found the occupant injured and the house in "general disarray."

Blattner said he answered a knock at the door and three men with whom he is acquainted pushed their way into the house.

While Blattner and two of the men fought, the third man unhooked stereo equipment and speakers and loaded the items into a car.

One of the intruders had a knife, Blattner said. He suffered cuts on the left leg and right hand and a large bite on the back, police said.

One of the men left a jacket at the scene.

A short time later police were called to the 2400 block between Grand and State, where a woman reported hearing shots fired from a high-power rifle and seeing a man with a gun enter a nearby dwelling.

Police went to the residence and talked with a woman inside and, a few minutes later, they entered the house through a rear door accompanied by a man who lives at that address.

On the table was a .22 automatic pistol and an AR-15 rifle was standing in a corner of the room. Both weapons were loaded, police said, and were confiscated.

Charles P. Fox, 18, of 2457 State St., Paul M. Perdue, 21, of 2113 Grand Ave., and Norman J. Mangoff, 18, of Iowa Street were named Friday in a burglary warrant and were in custody in Granite City.

In addition, Fox was charged with battery, unlawful use of a weapon and no firearm identification card.

The money will be borrowed against 1978 tax funds to be collected this summer, and must be repaid from the first tax money received by the district.

Sanitary district borrows $600,000

The Metro-East Sanitary District is in the process of borrowing $600,000 to cover overdue payrolls and to finance operating expenses until this year's tax collections are received.

The Sanitary District trustees have authorized a loan through sale of anticipation warrants to the First National Bank of East St. Louis. The loan is expected to be completed within the next week.

When the money becomes available, approximately $120,000 will be used to meet six weeks of payrolls because employees have not been paid since the first of the year, a spokesman reported.

The payroll for the first half of February, approximately $20,000, also will be added by the time the warrant funds are received, the spokesman added.

The money will be borrowed against 1978 tax funds to be collected this summer, and must be repaid from the first tax money received by the district.

Car hits pole, driver injured

William J. Eley, 27, of St. Louis, was injured Thursday when his southbound auto struck a telephone pole on Madison Avenue at 16th Street. He was believed to have been semi-conscious when the ambulance arrived.

Eley was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center and treated for abrasions to the head and pain. He had X-rays taken, but declined to be admitted for observation.

EXTENSIVE FIRE DAMAGE to the home of Mrs. Jennie Huey, 2031 Sixth St., East Madison, on Thursday. The fire is believed to have started in a bathroom. Madison firemen were at the scene until 1:05 p.m. Cause of the blaze is unknown.

Red tape thwarts business incentive law, firms assert

Sales tax incentive on new machinery and equipment passed last year in Illinois is in jeopardy, due to "a quiet move by administration bureaucrats to scuttle the benefits which were part of the original bill," according to Robert J. Walters, executive director of the Southwestern Illinois Industrial Association.

Area industries worked closely with a bipartisan group of legislators during 1978 to pass Senate Bill 736, a sales tax incentive designed to spur new jobs for Illinois.

"SIIA is particularly concerned about the loss of jobs in this area, which has lost 12,000 industrial jobs during the last decade," Walters said Friday.

Members of the Legislative Affairs Committee of SIIA are planning to attend a hearing Feb. 21 in Springfield. The Joint Legislative Committee on Administrative Rules will quiz Department of Revenue officials concerning the new sales tax regulations.

According to John Venardos, chairman of the SIIA legislative Affairs Committee, the Illinois Department of Revenue recently published regulations to help with administration of the sales tax incentive law.

"But rather than help clarify a few gray areas and to help people use the tax incentives, these new regulations are complicated, confusing and at times contradictory with the law itself. The regulations create new burdens," he asserted.

"Companies which have closely studied these sales tax regulations generally agree that the proposals from Revenue may only serve to create a new bureaucracy under the Department of Revenue."

Venardos credited both House and Senate legislators

"who understand our problems and the needs of industry."

"Legislators on both sides of the aisle are sympathetic to the dilemma, and they have expressed a willingness to meet with us so we can outline specific problem areas."

"Of course," Venardos said, "our first push will be to work with members of the Joint Committee on Administrative Rules. If they are not successful in persuading Revenue to amend the proposed regulations, then we may have to seek some type of legislative remedy."

He indicated that several companies within SIIA have mentioned that, because of the new burdensome regulations, "companies may opt to forget the tax incentive altogether. If that happens, the law will not stimulate capital formation — particularly among smaller manufacturers."

"Our Legislative Affairs Committee will be monitoring developments during the next several weeks to determine just how responsive administration officials are," Venardos concluded.

Arts becoming basic element of education

School districts will participate in regional seminars designed to assist them in developing comprehensive arts programs.

The seminars, sponsored by the State Board of Education, are a part of a five-year plan for implementing the arts in general education. As a part of that plan, various activities have been developed to assist local school districts in expanding and maintaining arts experiences for all students.

The three-day seminars will involve representatives of school districts working with consultants who have expertise and experience in implementing and planning arts education programs. Sites include the Edwardsville School district Feb. 20-22.

Each school system participating in the seminars will be represented by a team composed of a community representative, a school administrator, an arts educator and an elementary or secondary classroom teacher. A special education representative may be included on each team.

On the third day of the seminar, a press conference will be held to announce what the teams at the seminars are planning for their districts.

The State Board of Education's blueprint establishing the arts as a basic component of education will impose no added costs on schools.

The board has directed the Illinois Office of Education's staff to begin implementing a five-year plan for helping districts develop comprehensive arts programs as a part of the regular school curriculum.

The plan, which covers music, visual arts, theater, dance-movement, literary arts and media arts (film and photography), contains no mandates for schools. It was prepared by an Arts in General Education Task Force appointed by State Superintendent of Education Joseph M. Cronin.

The plan involves establishing an arts advisory structure, conducting awareness activities, developing curricula, collecting data on resource materials and funding sources, setting suggested educational standards, arranging inservice training for teachers and administrators, and recommending applications of the arts in teacher education programs and certification standards.

The board recommends that elements of a school's comprehensive arts in general education program include:

- Generalized instruction taught by classroom teachers in elementary schools and covering basic skills and general concepts that apply to all arts.
- Traditional instruction (music, visual arts, drama and dance) taught at all education levels by arts specialists.
- Integrated instruction using the arts in the curriculum to motivate students and enrich subject areas such as math and science.
- Interrelated instruction to show aesthetic concepts common to two or more arts disciplines and the natural relationships among the arts.
- Specialized instruction for the gifted and handicapped; and
- Extended arts instruction dealing with programs and experiences apart from the school curriculum.

KISS' GENE SIMMONS? No, this gentleman (above) is really a mild mannered student at North High School. He answers to Mark Disney when he isn't in makeup.

PEOPLE

'Kiss highlights GC Mimers performance

Was it really Gene Simmons or one of North High School's mimers?

One of the highlights of the mimers' tour of local schools was four young men who donned the costumes and makeup of the rock group Kiss. The eighth graders at Grigsby Junior High School were obviously pleased by the performance of the group.

The boys, including Mark Disney as the lead singer, Simmons, went to great pains to recreate the look of one of the favorite rock groups of the teenage set. Their mothers got into the act by making the costumes to the boys' exact specifications. The effect was so good that excited squeals could be heard from the young audience as they appeared on stage.

If Kiss came on a little strong, with Simmons (Disney) allowing a bloodlike substance to spew from his mouth in the manner of a real Kiss performance, there were other, lighter things going on as well.

The North mimers were delightful in their stark makeup and colorful costumes. The skits were funny and well performed. The kids put a lot of hard work and time into the moves and lines that made up the many different sketches. The opening and closing numbers were exciting and really got the audience into the act.

The mimers are under the direction of Gordon Miller, Wayne Hubbard and Goni Michalelof.

Triple tuition for dental students not from state

The Board of Trustees of Southern Illinois University approved Thursday a resolution to establish a separate tuition rate for students enrolled in the School of Dental Medicine of SIUE who are not residents of Illinois.

The tuition rate, effective in the fall quarter of 1979, will be $969 per quarter for out-of-state students, compared with the current tuition rate of $323 per quarter for all students enrolled in the school.

Since its establishment in 1970, the School of Dental Medicine has had a single tuition rate applicable to all enrolled students regardless of whether they were residents of Illinois.

Officials said a review of tuition rates at other dental schools in Illinois and neighboring states indicate out-of-state students normally are assessed a tuition rate approximately three times the rate for in-state students.

For several years, the School of Dental Medicine followed a practice of preferential consideration of Illinois residents in the admission of students. While this policy is not to be eliminated entirely, school officials intend to consider admission of some out-of-state students, particularly in minority categories.

University officers said the proposal to create an out-of-state student tuition rate for the School of Dental Medicine recognizes the principle that such students do not assist in supporting the university through tax payments.

"Costs of dental education are quite high due to the capital equipment and facilities required, and university officers do not believe Illinois taxpayers should subsidize the educational costs of non-Illinois residents," a spokesman said.

Riskovsky files in Madison race

Jim Riskovsky, 714 Iowa St., Madison, has filed petitions as a candidate for alderman of the Fourth Ward, it was reported Thursday.

Riskovsky filed nominating petitions Feb. 2, but his name was omitted from the filing list through an oversight, a city official said.

Candidates in the Madison City election on April 17, have until Tuesday, Feb. 13, to file petitions.

Revise precinct lines

An ordinance revising precinct boundaries in Wards Six and Seven in Granite City was enacted by the City Council in a regular meeting last week.

The ordinance, prepared by City Attorney Lance Callis at the request of the aldermen in the two wards, amends the boundaries of city precincts Nos. 24, 25 and 26 in Ward Six, with parts of those precincts providing a new precinct 35.

In Ward Seven the ordinance amends the boundaries of precincts 28 and 31, with parts of those precincts contained in a new precinct 36.

In each instance, the newly formed precincts conform to their boundaries with those of township precincts used in state and county balloting.

Aldermen Warren Decatur and Glen Sprinkle of Ward Four requested similar revision of the precincts in their ward, but Callis said that it is impossible at this time to rearrange conforming boundaries in that ward because of overlapping ward boundaries.

Callis said the revision is possible only if other aldermen agree to changes in the precinct boundaries of the other wards. Alderman Sam Whittmer of the Second Ward has been consistently opposed to any precinct changes in his ward.

The aldermen also agreed to authorize actual expenses for aldermen who wish to attend an assessing school that is to be held March 5, 6 and 7 in Springfield. The Illinois Department of Local Government Affairs will conduct the school in an effort to acquaint officials with the workings of the state's assessment system.

Mayor Paul Schuler said he felt the city officials "have been a bit negligent in acquainting ourselves with this type of thing," and suggested that as many aldermen as possible can attend the school.

Alderman Ronald Coleman noted that the school scheduled next month is "more of a basic course" in assessment and taxation systems and said he believed this would be the best one for the aldermen to attend.

One of the dates for the school, March 6, conflicts, however, with the date of the regular City Council meeting. The mayor said he believed some kind of schedule can be worked out or that it might be possible for the meeting date to be changed.

Council members also enacted an ordinance eliminating parking along the southeast side of Delmar Avenue from 21st Street westerly to a point contiguous to the boundary line of the Township Building.

The action was taken at the request of Supervisor Neilson Hagnauer, who reported parking along that stretch of Delmar interferes with buses unloading senior citizens and handicapped persons at the town building.

Thomas Bruncic, 46, dies

Thomas Wayne Bruncic, 46, of 1527 Sixth St., Madison, an Army veteran of the Korean War, died following an apparent heart attack at 10:20 a.m. Thursday.

Mr. Bruncic was taken by ambulance from his home to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where he was pronounced dead upon arrival. He was born in St. Louis and resided in Madison for the past 24 years.

Mr. Bruncic was a meat cutter by trade and was employed in the meat departments at various local and area grocery stores, including Kozyak's Market and an O'Fallon store. He was a member of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters of America, Local 534. He also formerly assisted his father, the late George Bruncic, who operated Bruncic's Tavern at 14th Street and Madison Avenue.

Mr. Bruncic was a member of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church of

Madison and Madison Amvets Post 204. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Delores J. (Miller) Bruncic; a son, Mark E. Bruncic, and a daughter, Miss Teresa Bruncic, both at home; his mother, Mrs. Fay Bruncic of Granite City; a sister, Mrs. Jo Ann Sebesak of Granite City; and two grandmothers, Mrs. Stella Meyer and Mrs. Lucia Bruncic, both of Granite City. Mr. Bruncic was the son-in-law of Edward J. Miller, retired Madison city controller.

Services were held Saturday at St. Mary's Church. Details are given in the obituary column.

Sheriff will act on data from trial

Madison County Sheriff Emil Toffant, who has been attending the federal trial of former Sheriff John Maeras, Capt. John Cooper, who still is on the sheriff's department staff, and fund-raiser Leland Stoller, told reporters in the lobby of the federal courthouse in Alton Thursday that he is acting on information he is learning during the trial.

As noted in Thursday's Press-Record, Toffant has instructed his deputies not to call Mick's Garage in Mitchell for towing services, unless the owner of the car to be towed requests that this garage be called.

The reason for his order, the new sheriff said, is allegations presented during the trial that deputies serving under Maeras received money, gasoline or other favors for calling tow trucks from that garage for accidents, stalled cars and other towing jobs.

Toffant said he expects that other towing services — "at least nine," he said — may be "blackballed" from the department's towing list, due to allegations he expects may be raised at the trial.

"Of course, if the owner requests any of these garages to tow his car, we will comply and there will be no questions," Toffant said. Sheriff Toffant answered criticisms that he is wasting time at the trial and that he should put Capt. John Cooper and Capt. Robert Rizzo on suspension until allegations against them have been resolved. The latter was absolved of any wrongdoings in revised testimony by former Sgt. Gary Lee Burns.

"First of all, Capt. Rizzo is on night shift at the jail and is looking less and less as though he was involved in any of this."

"Cooper is on sick leave for a back problem. He asked for vacation time for the trial, but I couldn't grant it, because he was on sick leave. So he currently is on workman's compensation," Toffant said.

Toffant added that he is acting on the advice of Madison County State's Attorney Nicholas G. Byron and on correspondence from the Illinois Sheriff's Association not to take action against any accused employee until the trial is completed.

Toffant also said, "I am very interested in seeing first-hand who else is involved, so I can take the appropriate actions. I am just doing my job, being here."

Toffant is accompanied by his director of operations, Fred Bright, at the trial.

$150-a-week payoffs by vice madam, jurors told

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

As the federal trial of former Madison County Sheriff John Maeras, Capt. John Cooper of the sheriff's department and fund-raiser Leland Stoller of Nashville, Tenn., entered its fourth day Thursday, the jury heard testimony by the former madam of a house of prostitution that Cooper and a former Madison policeman, Alderman Ronald Grzywacz, collected $150 a week from her establishment for protection against raids.

Myrene Stewart, former operator of Myrene's Steakhouse in Alton, told federal authorities that she paid $150 per week to the late Dillie Connors until his death Dec. 4, 1968, and that a short time after Mr. Connors' death, she was asked by Cooper and Grzywacz to pay them if she wished to avoid raids.

Although Mrs. Stewart was unable to fix the month, or even the year, in which she began weekly payments to Cooper and Grzywacz, she estimated she paid them for about six months before her house of prostitution was raided by the sheriff's department in December 1971.

She admitted that prostitution resumed at her establishment, which she termed "a restaurant, cafe and house of prostitution," a short time after the December 1971 raid. She said she resumed payments to Cooper and Grzywacz, who assured her they could protect her from future raids by the sheriff's department.

She testified that in May 1972, her establishment was again was raided by the sheriff's department. There were arrests, and she was jailed overnight and then appeared before a judge who fined her $600.

She said she then called "Ron," but he was not there and never returned her call.

She then ceased payments to anyone and closed Myrene's Steakhouse permanently.

In his cross-examination of Mrs. Stewart, Attorney Bruce Cook of Belleville, who represents Maeras, indicated he felt the payoffs must not have reached Maeras, or her establishment would not have been raided.

"Did you think maybe you were paying the wrong people? The money was not getting to the top?" Cook asked. "I thought of it," Mrs. Stewart responded.

"It sure wasn't doing you any good to pay," Cook concluded.

U.S. Attorney Gerald Fines said that Mrs. Stewart was under a grant of immunity from the government, in return for her testimony.

Defense Attorney H. Carl Runge, representing Cooper, asked if the immunity grant included immunity from paying income tax on the money she received from prostitutes. Mrs. Stewart said she was not sure, but believed it was a grant which covered all wrongdoings from her prostitution operations.

Under redirect questioning by Fines, she said she never saw Cooper open the envelopes in which she put the $150 per week, but said he should have known what was in them. "He told me what to put in it," she stated.

She admitted she was not sure whether Cooper or "Ron" had mentioned the amount to put in each envelope.

The prosecution also called former deputy Harold Bradshaw to the witness stand and Bradshaw testified he received small amounts of liquor and money periodically from Mrs. Stewart.

He said he thought the money was in return for him letting her know if he heard anything, "like a raid or something," he told the court.

He testified he never heard of an upcoming raid, so never told Mrs. Stewart anything.

Bradshaw said that in 1963, he quit the sheriff's department and went to work part-time in the county garage, where the sheriff's vehicles receive gasoline.

One weekend — he estimated it was in 1971 — Cooper came to the station and told Bradshaw, "Tell that lady down there that I and Ron want to see her."

Bradshaw said he conveyed the message to Mrs. Stewart, telling her that Cooper and "Ron" were coming to the steakhouse to see her. He testified that a couple of weeks later, "Ron" came to the service station and "said he had seen that woman."

Former Sergeant Gary Lee Burns of the sheriff's department was on the witness stand for three hours Thursday, completing a total of 11 hours of testimony by him during this trial.

Burns, 33, of Granite City, admitted under cross-examination that he was guilty of several crimes while a sheriff's deputy, including three drug dealings he had admitted in previous testimony.

He said a friend of his burned his car in 1966 or 1967 and that he (Burns) claimed the insurance for the car.

He also admitted that during a drug raid in East Alton, while he was a narcotics agent for the sheriff's department, he took a Levi jacket from an apartment.

"I took it. Yes, I did. I later threw it away," he testified. He said "no" to a question from Runge on whether he ever took jewelry and earnings from a home during a drug raid.

Burns also admitted he obtained some jackets or sports coats which may have been stolen from someone while he was at the Madison Police Department, but said he could not remember who brought the jackets into the station for his inspection.

"I don't remember who I got them from. There were several people there at the police station. I just don't remember."

"It was a long time ago. (George) Musso was sheriff," Burns said, estimating it occurred in 1968 or 1969.

Runge also asked Burns if he ever "booked" bets, in uniform, at the Fairmount and Cahokia race tracks.

Burns answered, "I bet for them. Yes, I did. I didn't book any bets for people."

Burns explained that booking means the bet is never placed at the race track, but that the "bookie" keeps the money and pays winners. He said he never received any money for placing bets on horse races for friends.

Another challenge to the credibility of Burns' testimony came when Michael Costello, attorney for defendants Stoller and Lee Stoller Enterprises, Inc., hinted that Burns may have invented testimony he told federal authorities in order to have something they needed, so that he could make "a deal" for a short jail term in return for his testimony.

Costello, who is from Springfield, started his cross-examination of Burns by challenging an earlier statement by the witness that "guilt" was what made him change his story. His earlier version was that he had given Maeras only envelopes from Stoller, and the only envelope he saw opened contained date tickets.

Costello emphasized that Burns told a federal grand jury and federal investigators and prosecutors that he delivered only envelopes from Stoller to the sheriff.

He said that guilt did not compel Burns to go to the federal prosecutor after that, but that he decided to "change his story" after a young lady told a federal grand jury about alleged drug dealings with Burns, and that Grzywacz was convicted and sentenced to serve seven years in prison for racketeering.

Burns admitted, "When Ronnie Grzywacz was convicted, I knew then it was just a matter of time until we were all in trouble."

Asked about the seven-year sentence given to Grzywacz, Burns said, "It's a whole lot."

The witness strongly disagreed with an FBI document which contended Burns told agents he would cooperate only if he was granted immunity.

"I did not bring it (immunity) up. They are inaccurate on that. Yes sir, they are," Burns said when shown an FBI report dated May 12, 1977, in Granite City.

Costello contended that in October 1978, when Burns was called into Fines' office in Springfield, Burns and his attorney, Ben Allen, discussed potential questions and consequences during the 90-minute to two-hour drive there.

Costello noted that Maeras and Cooper already had been indicted and a December 1978 date set for the trial, later changed to February 1979. He contended that Burns then thought "about what you needed for immunity, changed your story to cash, rather than envelopes," and then "told the government that you could deliver Mr. Stoller into their hands."

The federal prosecutors then drafted a new indictment, naming Stoller, Maeras and Cooper as defendants, Costello told the jury.

The attorney then changed subjects, noting that in a four and one-half hour interview with the FBI Oct. 30, 1978, Burns had said he believed money to Maeras from Stoller's fund-raising activities came from checks on the bank account of the county deputies' association to "ghost employees" of Stoller.

Burns said ghost checks were "in order to cover the payoffs to Maeras."

He estimated there were four to six checks made out to "phony employees," and added, "There were some phony, ghost checks made out and some of that money went directly back to John Maeras."

The witness told Costello he estimated Stoller gave Maeras about $10,000 to $12,000, which was different than his estimate in testimony the day before, when he estimated Maeras got $17,000 to $20,000 of the funds raised by Stoller for dances, ad books, a drug book and charitable events sponsored by the former Madison County Deputy Sheriff Association.

Costello suggested Burns had reviewed his testimony of the past two days and had lowered the estimate, because it would be believable. Burns denied the allegation.

Burns was questioned a second time by Assistant U.S. Attorney Cass Weiland and denied that his offer to import a ton of marijuana from Colombia for $10,000 for a young woman was a real offer.

"I told her I was going to, to gain her confidence, so she did not think I was setting her up for a drug buy and a bust," he testified.

Runge asked Burns if it was true that Burns gave the woman a small quantity of marijuana to try, and told her it was a sample of what he could import from Colombia.

Burns responded, "I gave her some 'pot' to try and she didn't like it. I told her it was just some pot that I had."

He denied that he represented it as a sample of what he could import.

Burns then was excused and neither side asked the judge, J. Waldo Ackerman of Springfield, for the right to recall Burns should additional questions be raised.

Trojans stun fifth-ranked Cairo, 84-77

MADISON — One thing for sure, when Madison High basketball coach Larry Graham finished coaching his team here Saturday night, he knew he'd been through a game.

Better make that three or four games.

Graham's Trojans, sixth-ranked last week in the Class A (small school) Associated Press state-wide poll of sportswriters, played inspired basketball down the stretch to defeat fifth-ranked Cairo 84-77 before a packed house.

"I'm exhausted," said Graham. "It's difficult to coach, officiate or play an emotional game like this. I feel like I've been through three or four games."

Madison jumped out to a first half lead, over the visiting Pilots and looked as if they would blow them clear out of the gym and all the way back down the Mississippi River.

Ahead by only one (19-18) at the end of the first period, Madison went to work in the second quarter. With all-state guard James Heard continually getting loose inside for back-door baskets, and Kenny Stanley hitting from outside, the Trojans forged a 31-20 lead midway into the period.

"I'd say that this was the best game I've played since Christmas," said Graham. "He's been doing a little better the past week or so."

A switch in the regular starting lineup for Madison may have helped things. Graham gave the starting nod to strongman Eric

Stanley at the center position, rather than sophomore standout Morris Hughes. "Eric earned it," said Graham. "He's a senior, he's a hard-worker on rebounding and this was our last home game."

"I think Hughes would have rather had it this way, anyway," said Graham. "He'll be starting for two more years anyway."

Stanley contributed several key rebounds and some crucial baskets down the stretch when the going got a little closer than Graham would have liked.

The Trojans began playing their "second game" with about three minutes left in the first half. Ahead 33-22, Madison was held scoreless the rest of the way in the half by Cairo, save a lone free throw by Heard with about a minute remaining. Meanwhile, the Trojans reeled off 16 points to take a 38-34 half-time lead.

Graham accounted for the scoreless streak. "This was such an emotional game," he said. "We made some very careless turnovers out there."

"But Cairo causes turnovers pretty well," Graham said that much of the emotion went beyond the fact that the two teams had had knock-down-drag-out battles the past two years.

"There are relatives out there when we play Cairo," he said. "There are many people in Madison from Cairo and vice versa."

Another bit of emotion was in Madison's corner. The Trojan team voted to dedicate the game to Leroy "Red" Perry, a janitor at Madison High who is suffering from cancer and is in an area hospital. "We wanted to win it for Red," Graham said. "He's pretty close to most of the team and means a lot to the guys."

Still reeling from that scoreless streak, the Trojans fell behind by 10 points at 46-36 with 6:55 left in the third period. Just a little over a minute later, Heard picked up his fourth personal foul, forcing him to watch the rest of the period from the bench.

"Heard getting that fourth foul sure didn't help things, said Graham."

But then the Trojans decided to scrap the "game plan" they were using and go back to the one they had used most of the first half.

They went on a streak of their own and grabbed a 50-49 lead with three minutes remaining in the third quarter on a short jumper by Kenny Stanley.

Madison led 59-55 after three quarters.

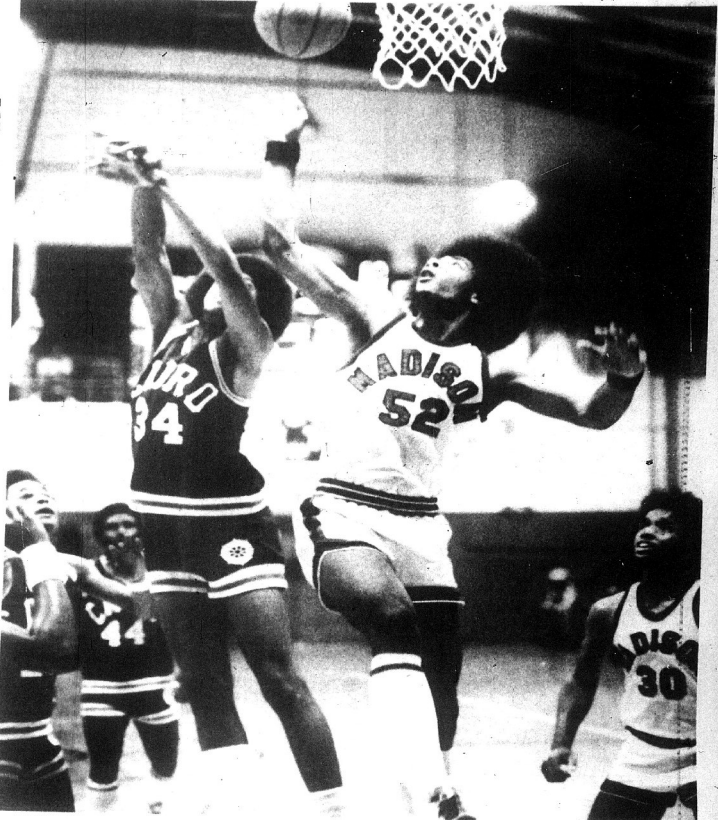

Cairo used everything but the kitchen sink in the fourth quarter in an attempt to take the lead. The Pilots managed to crawl within two points on three occasions, but could never take the lead.

Graham and his team faced almost a mirror-image of themselves in Cairo. The Pilots are quick, not too tall and use full-court pressure. "They're exactly like we are," said Graham. "It's good for us to play them. We've had some people in games who've been going to sleep. They couldn't afford to do that tonight."

Madison will face a stiff test Thursday night when they travel to Memorial Gymnasium in Granite City for a game with GCHS South. "South could be the best team on our schedule besides East St. Louis," Graham said. "People have been overlooking them all year, but they're a good double-A (large) school. They could be a sleeper."

District wrestling

South wins 22nd title

GRANITE CITY — The Granite City South wrestling team won its 22nd district championship here Saturday night, taking the team title from Cahokia and cross-town rival Granite City North.

South finished with 174 points, Cahokia 105 and North 103.5. (Complete results in Scoreboard, Page 11).

But more important, South qualified six wrestlers for next weekend's GCHS South Sectional Tournament, which will be held in the Memorial Gymnasium there.

GCHS North qualified five of its wrestlers for the sectional, one of which came as a mild surprise. Not that he qualified, just in the way he did.

North's Kevin Shemwell upset South's Sam Perkins 9-7 in the championship bout at 138 pounds. It was Perkins' first defeat of the season. Perkins also qualified for the sectional tournament via the wrestleback route. He finished second in the state last season at 138 pounds.

Besides the 11 Granite City wrestlers who qualified for the sectional, Cahokia qualified four wrestlers, East St. Louis two, Alton two, and Roxana and East St. Louis Lincoln one each.

Granite Cityans, besides Perkins and Shemwell, who will go to the sectional meet are North's Gerald Miller (98), Bob Kirgan (112), Allen Kirgan (126) and Greg Shemwell (132). South wrestlers who will go are Rodney Lupardus (119), Barry Forshee (126), Dean Perkins (145), Drue Clement (155), Scott Polson (167) and Don King (185).

Those wrestlers will join qualifiers from the Belleville West, Murphysboro and Springfield Southeast district tournaments.

At Belleville West, the host Maroons easily won the championship, outdistancing Belleville East 149 to 96. Centralia was third at 80.

Murphysboro won its district tourney, 122.5 to 118.5 over Carbondale. Mt. Vernon was third.

At Springfield South-west, Springfield Lanphier was the winner with 141.5 points. Springfield Senior was second with Quincy Senior third.

OUCH! Granite City South wrestler Rodney Lupardus grits his teeth as he is handled here by North's Tracy Patton during action in the GCHS South District Class AA wrestling tournament Saturday. South won the tournament and will host the IHSAA sectional next Friday and Saturday in Memorial Gymnasium.

North bowlers sixth at state

PEORIA — The Granite City North girls bowling team finished sixth in the state tournament here Saturday, after going into the final round in second place.

The Steelerettes, coached by Lori Houser, finished well ahead of seventh place Chicago Hubbard and just behind fifth place Evergreen Park.

Abingdon won the team title.

After two rounds, North had a cumulative score of 4,833, which was just behind front-runner Abingdon's 4,894. "We just sort of wore out after the second round," said Houser. "I thought we might be able to hold on for a place in the top four, but we got tired."

North bowled in only four regular season dual meets.

Kay Herman of North bowled the second-highest series of the day Friday with a 559 first round. Abingdon's Pat Connor had a 568. Herman bowled a 511 second round.

Other North scores after the first two rounds were: Christy Herman (Kay's sister) 471, 537; Tammy Ambuehl 463, 462; Rhonda Crider 518, 427; and Janie Greathouse 466, 414.

"I thought the girls did very well about a month of playing time," said Houser. "I guess after three days of traveling and bowling, they just got a little tired."

Cougars surprise Rockhurst

EDWARDSVILLE — Leaning heavily on their new but hard-earned defense to go with their proven offense, the 10-11 Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville basketball Cougars posted a sixth victory in their last seven games here Saturday night, at the Edwardsville High gym.

The Cougars' latest victim were the high-flying

Rockhurst College Hawks by a convincing 71-59 score. It was a dramatic reversal of the Cougars' 81-69 defeat at the hands of Rockhurst early in December at Kansas City.

Tomorrow (Tuesday) night, the Cougars will get another opportunity to avenge an earlier loss: they will host the University of Missouri, Kansas City.

Venice continues rise with 40 point rout

By KEVIN ALLEN
of the Press-Record

VENICE — The expression on the player's faces told the story Saturday, when Venice's Red Devils basketball team defeated Marquette, 97-57.

The Red Devils were relaxed, loose and at times laughing, while Marquette were looks of disappointment and frustration.

The Red Devils came out hot; their shooting was outstanding, and as the game progressed, they were absolutely burning.

The reason was obvious to Venice coach Ken Perkins, "I could shoot so free throws in a row if I didn't have a hand in my face," he said.

The Red Devils and Perkins knew what to expect going into the game. "Once you get ahead of any team, you're more relaxed and your shooting is better. But if you don't know a team, you still have to think about them coming back. We already knew this team," he said.

There was really little doubt of the outcome, even before the end of the first quarter. Toward the end of the game, Venice was battling the clock more than it

Venice adds Flyers

VENICE — Venice High School's basketball team has added a game to its 1978-79 schedule ... and it's a doozy.

The Red Devils have picked up tough Class AA (large school) power East St. Louis Senior, according to Venice Coach Ken Perkins.

"Since both schools have had to cancel several of our games with St. Louis Public School because of the strike," said Perkins, "we got together with Coy Nunn (East St. Louis coach) and worked this out."

The game will be played Tuesday, Feb. 20 at East St. Louis. The junior varsity game will begin at 6:30 p.m., with the varsity game immediately after.

East St. Louis has been a powerhouse among Class AA circles for many years. The Flyers defeated Madison by 10 points early this season. "I may be crazy," said Perkins, "but I think we'll be able to play with them. We've been playing some very tough teams ourselves, like Vashon and Sumner from St. Louis."

was Marquette.

The Red Devils saw a chance to break the 100-point mark, leading 76-38 at the end of the third quarter. Venice instituted a press, in order to control the ball and reach their goal.

That may seem greedy, even insulting, but Perkins didn't think so. "I'm not going to tell them to stop shooting," he said.

Saying Venice dominated the game is understating the case. In the first quarter, the Red Devils outscored Marquette 23-10 from the field, they had 13 rebounds to 8 for the Explorers, and Marquette missed 17 shots.

By the half, Venice's statistics began to run off the page. It led 49-24 going into the second half.

Venice's reserves played most of the second half, but they too had little trouble doing nearly anything they wanted.

About the only disappointing thing for Venice was that they failed to reach 100.

In all, Venice finished with five players in double scoring figures. The Red Devils Donald Gardner led this group with 19.

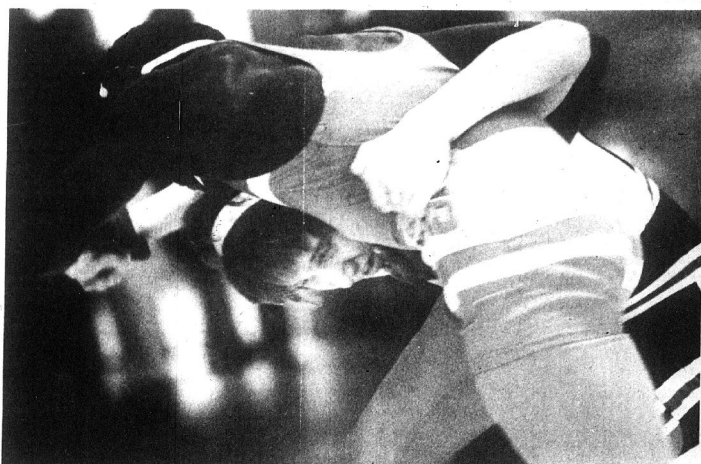

In a game where very little stood out for Marquette, the play of the Explorers' Chuck Matthews and Max Hoefort was most noteworthy. Hoefort led his team with 19 points, while Matthews contributed 17.

"Hoefort has about as quick a release as I've seen. He just got mad when Ronnie (Salmond) put the ball in over him," said Perkins. "Matthews is a pretty good shooter, too. They just didn't get the ball inside to him enough."

But good performances from two players, wasn't enough to stop the Red Devils.

"We've been getting a lot better play lately," said Perkins, Salmond is a real intimidator, and Ricky Jones did a pretty fair job of it. Intimidating, too. Marquette's problems is that they're just young. They just wanted to get the shot off."

Warriors downed by Goss-led East, 59-55

GRANITE CITY — The cagers of Granite City South lost a heartbreaker to the Lancers of Belleville East in the fourth quarter of Saturday night's contest at the Memorial Gym, 59-55.

South was down by five, then up by one, then tied, and finally down by four at the close of the ball game.

The first half was pretty respectful for the Warrior rebounders, but those same rebounders lost their agility and the game was lost there as well as the 38 percent shooting from the field — 23 good out of 61 shots.

"We got beat on the boards in the second half," said South's head coach, Don Deterding.

"We did okay with defensive rebounds in the first half, but they annihilated us on the same boards in the last half."

The Warriors were only good for 34 percent from the field in the first half. However, they made up for the poor shooting on the boards, grabbing any rebound from a missed Lancer shot. In the second half, East shot, missed, grabbed their offensive rebound, then making the second shot.

East also shot 56 percent, making 24 out of 43 shots attempted. The Lancers shot 69 percent from the line whereas South put in 75 percent of their charity tosses.

Belleville had one other advantage — a 6'3" senior forward named Fernando

Goss. "We planned on rotating Goss," said East's coach, Don Otness. "They (South) fronted Fernando the whole game. They kept a man on him throughout."

"Goss is tough," said Deterding. "When you're as good as he is, you're gonna get some points. I always say, a good player will rise to the occasion — he did. Goss played better in the second half than the first, though. Goss only scored seven

SIU tickets on sale

EDWARDSVILLE — Ticket prices for students of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville wishing to see their Cougar cagers play a pair of games at the St. Louis Checkerdome have been set at $1, if purchased in advance.

Tickets at the gate the night of the game will be $3, according to Ed Bigham, SIUE's acting athletic director. The $1 tickets will be on sale at the SIUE University Center.

The Cougars' first game at the Checkerdome will be against Kentucky Wesleyan, Thursday night, Feb. 15, the opening event of a collegiate twinnbill, beginning at 5:30 p.m. The second game will pit the Bills of St. Louis University against the Louisville U. Cardinals, currently ranked fourth in the nation.

In their second game at the Checkerdome, Saturday night, Feb. 24, the Cougars will play the St. Louis U. Bills, in the feature contest starting at 7:45 p.m.

Coach Jim Dudley's Cougars, who have never beaten Kentucky Wesleyan in three tries over three seasons, will play the Panthers this Saturday, (Feb. 3) at Owensboro, Ky., at 8 p.m.

Three games in one

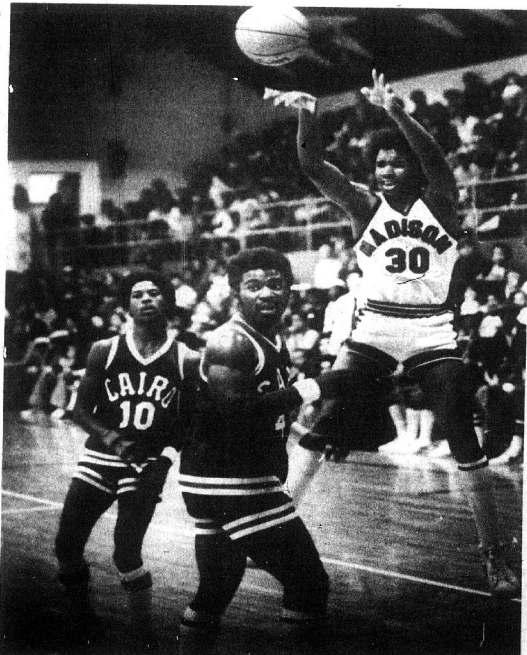

MADISON — There was a showdown here Saturday night. Madison's basketball Trojans, ranked sixth in a recent state-wide poll among Class A (small school) teams faced Cairo, the team ranked just ahead of Madison in the same poll.

The outcome? A knock down-drag out battle. Madison Coach Larry Graham said he felt as if he'd been through three games instead of one. He might just have been.

Madison took a commanding early lead, then lost it to the Pilots who built a commanding lead. Then the Trojans came back to take the lead for good in the second half.

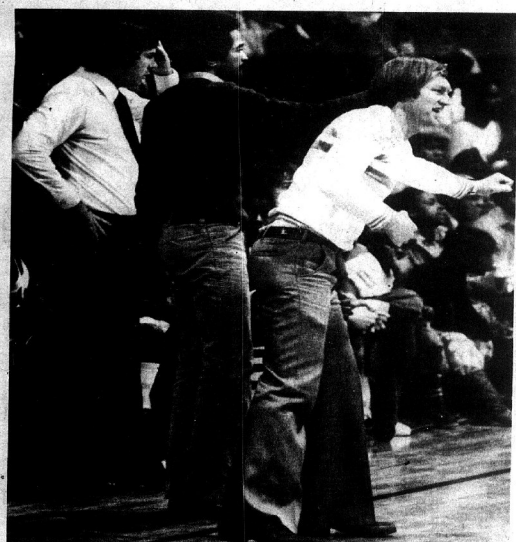

It could very well be a preview to a state tournament game farther down the road. VERY far. For the two teams to meet in post-season play, both would have to make it to the Assembly Hall in Champaign. The next time the two could meet would be in a semifinal game in the state finals.

Madison will play out of Charleston (EIU) Supersectional, while Cairo would have to win the Nashville Sectional then go to the Carbondale (SIU) Supersectional.

Church Women to aid area Special Olympics

Church Women United of the Quad-Cities have been invited by Dr. Richard Robinson, chairman of Special Olympics for the mentally retarded and physically handicapped, to supervise feeding of the participants in the Olympics. CWU has accepted the invitation and appointed Mrs. Pat McAmish and Mrs. Ellen Wilson as chairmen. Mrs. Marion Pierson, president of the CWU, announced this undertaking at a monthly board meeting. The food project last year by CWU fed over 1,300 participants. CWU has been contacted by the Oath agency for volunteer help by handicapped persons. The food is largely donated.

It was announced that World Day of Prayer will be held March 2. This year, there will be two downtown services at 12:30 and 12:50, in the chapel of Niedringhaus Methodist Church.

Mrs. Doris Edwards is chairman of the evening service, which will be held at Nameoki Methodist Church at 7:30 p.m. Mrs. Edwards said the theme is "Spiritual Growth." The service was composed by women from African nations.

A monthly discussion group will meet to discuss timely topics. This new group will express individual viewpoints on pertinent subjects. The first meeting will be March 16 at Nameoki Presbyterian Church at 10 a.m., when the topic will be child abuse.

Mrs. Pierson announced May fellowship will be held on May 4 at Niedringhaus Church.

The next board meeting will be on March 8 at 1 p.m. at Nameoki Methodist. Those attending the meeting were Mrs. Pierson, Dolores Allen, Nona Corzilius, Pat McAmish, Marie Gordon, Dorothea Rivenburgh and Ellen Wilson.

SENIOR CITIZEN FILM

The "The Other Side of the Mountain" sequel will be shown at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday to Granite City Township senior citizens at the GC Township Hall, 20th Street and Delmar Avenue.

MR. AND MRS. STEPHEN A. MARTIN. They were married Jan. 20 at St. Joseph Catholic Church. She is the former Miss Catherine J. Stanfill, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Stanfill, 2214 State St. (Fisher Photography Services)

Catherine Stanfill and Stephen Martin marry

Miss Catherine J. Stanfill, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Stanfill, 2214 State St., became the bride of Stephen A. Martin of Cahokia in an afternoon ceremony Jan. 20 at St. Joseph Catholic Church, Granite City. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Martin of Elmhurst.

Father James Wasser officiated at the double-ring ceremony. Organist Mrs. Clea M. Judd played "Ave Maria," the Lord's Prayer, "The Wedding Prayer" and selections from Dubois and Mendelssohn.

The bride wore a gown of white organza which featured an open neckline edged in floral Venice lace. The bodice and sleeves were trimmed with matching lace motifs.

The skirt was designed with a daisy chain of Venice lace. The hemline was bordered with rows of chain lace, as was the full chapel train. Her fingertip veil was trimmed with matching lace. She carried a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis.

Honor attendant, Mrs. Harold Hays, sister of the bride, wore a rosette polyester A-line gown with a lace yoke and a sheer cape. Bridesmaids Karen Simpson, Lee Ann Jilek, a cousin of the bride, Cathy Martin, a sister of the groom, Cheryl Stanfill, a sister-in-law of the bride, and Deborah Vasiloff chose identically-styled gowns in a wine hue.

All carried long stemmed pink roses with baby's breath and pink ribbons. The groom chose Thomas Carmody as best man, Joseph Coleman, Ronald Kopriya, Roger Vallowe, Alfred Martin and Thomas Stanfill served as groomsmen. Ushers were Peter Martin and Wesley Stanfill. The bride's mother, Mrs. Stanfill, chose a long-sleeved gown of sea green silesta. It featured a matching sash and a slightly draped neckline.

Mrs. Martin, the groom's mother, wore a dark red polyester gown. Each wore a corsage of white rosebuds.

The groom's parents hosted a rehearsal dinner at the Round Table Restaurant. A reception was held following the ceremony at St. Mary's Parish Center.

The bride is a graduate of Granite City High School South. She attended Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and is a member of Alpha Phi Omega National Service Fraternity. She is employed as an admitting clerk at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Her husband graduated from York Community High School in Elmhurst and attended Parks College. He is also a member of Alpha Phi Omega, and is a customer service agent for Trans-World Airways.

After a wedding trip to Hawaii, the couple will reside in Cahokia.

25TH ANNIVERSARY. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Smallie, 3311 Wabash Ave., were honored on their twenty-fifth anniversary at a dinner party at Top of the Tower Restaurant.

Smallies celebrate anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Smallie, 3311 Wabash Ave., have just returned from a trip to Florida after celebrating their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. A dinner party was held at the Top of the Tower Restaurant, in St. Louis in honor of the couple, hosted by their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Duane Smallie.

The couple was married on Jan. 22, 1954. Mrs. Smallie is the former Vineta Mercer. The guests of honor cut a tiered wedding cake. Guests were Mrs. Etta Smallie, Mrs. Gloria Davis, Mrs. Loretta Klebusch, Miss Faye Mercer, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Mercer, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Kaminski, Mrs. Jane Burress, Shari Gosnell, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Van, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Jennings, Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Mercer, Mr. and Mrs. Marty Mercer, Miss Berniece Mercer, Mr. and Mrs. Watson Mercer, Carl Mercer, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Mercer, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Simpson, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Litzelman, Fran Litzelman, Brian Sikes, Jim McKinnon, Lynn Carruth, Patty Davis and Phil Mull.

Artie Milford Clarks celebrate 50th year

Mr. and Mrs. Artie Milford Clark, 2202 Nevada Ave., will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary at a buffet reception Saturday in the Fellowship Hall at Tri-City Park Tabernacle Church, Maryville Road and Clark Avenue.

Family members and friends are invited to greet the couple at the reception from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, a family spokesman advised.

The couple will observe their actual golden wedding day tomorrow, Feb. 13.

Artie Milford Clark and the former Virgie Mae Bilyeu were married Feb. 13, 1929, by Judge Weiss at his offices on State Street, Granite City.

Until retiring in 1972, Mr. Clark was employed at General Steel Industries for 30 years. He worked in the patternmaking shop and was a member of the United Steel Workers of America, Local 1022.

They are the parents of Gary Clark, 2149 Cleveland Blvd., Mrs. Edward (Rosalee) Perigen, 2113 Lynch Ave., and Mrs. Donald (Ruth) Gann of Oxnard, Calif.

The Clarks have eight grandchildren and four great-grandchildren. Both are members of Bethel Chapel.

The anniversary event will be hosted by their son, daughters and sons-in-law.

Susan B. Anthony ceremony

In honor of Susan B. Anthony's birthday Feb. 15, the Metro-East Women's Political Caucus will present to the Lewis and Clark regional library in Edwardsville a biography, "Susan B. Anthony: Rebel, Crusader, Humanitarian" by Alma Lutz.

Miss Anthony was cited by the MEWPC for helping women win the right to vote, better working conditions, and abolition of slavery. She also was active in the temperance movement.

Many libraries are members of the Lewis and Clark system, and the book will be made available throughout the area. The presentation will occur at 9:30 a.m. Thursday at the library on Goshen Road.

French cuisine GC Unit topic

"Your Best Face Forward" was the subject of the major lesson, presented by Martha McElroy at a meeting of the Granite City Home Extension Unit last week.

The first part of the lesson dealt with the skin and its care. The second part dealt with cosmetology, with Marcie Johnson and Freddy McElroy serving as models.

The February major lesson was "French Cookery and Cuisine," presented by Anne Pare and Mary Zikovich. They demonstrated, prepared and served a luncheon of boeuf bourguignon, carrots vieux, Pommes de terre en soufflé and French bread.

The hostesses, Ann Michels and Wilma Owca, completed the luncheon by serving French cream puffs. The table settings were in a patriotic theme of red, white and blue with an American flag and a picture of Abraham Lincoln.

Chairman Wilma Owca presided at the meeting, held at the Nameoki United Presbyterian Church. Twenty members and four guests were present.

Announcements included a membership cleanup drive, with a kickoff luncheon to be held on Feb. 14.

The annual meeting at Urbana will be March 20-22, and reservations are due March 1.

Health and safety lessons presented by Madge Ramsey were "Fireplaces are nice but can be hazardous" and "Lifeline."

Members attending were Emma Gobbie, Hulda Griffith, Bernice Johnson, Louise Johnson, Marcie Johnson, LaNel Lesage, Toni Lynch, Freddy McElroy, Martha McElroy, Anna Michels, Wilma Owca, Anna Palsgrove, Madge Ramsey, Anne Pare, Helen Parks, Florence Simpson, Martha Taylor, Laura Travis, Josephine Uram and Mary Zikovich.

Chairman Wilma Owca presided at the meeting, held

Hall-Lamm wedding here

Velma Lamm of Bridgeton, formerly of Granite City, became the bride of Merrill G. Hall Sr., of St. Ann Feb. 3 at Hope Lutheran Church.

The Rev. David Fielding, pastor of the church, officiated at the morning ceremony.

The bride's daughter, Patricia Lamm, was maid of honor. Merrill G. Hall Jr., the groom's son, served as best man.

A reception was given at the bride's daughter's home and was co-hosted by Mrs. Carolyn Wilkins.

Mrs. Propes hosts to club

The Thursday Evening Bunko Club held its regular meeting at the home of Luella Propes.

Prizes were won by Lorene Menzies, Myrtle Bruns, Bea Beck and the hostess. Others present were Lorraine Nelson, Alice Kiester, Grace Parmley and Celeste Johnson. The luncheon served a snack luncheon.

Next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Parmley Feb. 15.

Greenhills name 2nd son Richard

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Greenhill of Moro, Ill., have selected the name, Michael Shawn for their second son, born Jan. 31 at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

The mother will be remembered as the former Kaye Nickell of Granite City. The couple's older son, Richard Dale Greenhill Jr., is 9 years old.

The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Nickell, 2571 E. 27th St. Mrs. Martha Greenhill of Washington Park and the late Clarence Greenhill are the paternal grandparents.

TALK ON REPRESSION
In the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville University Center at 1 p.m. Thursday, Courtland Cox will speak on "multinational corporation support for repression in Third World countries and continuing CIA intervention in national liberation struggles." His talk will be followed by an hour-long seminar on "citizen action to prevent such abuses." Sponsor is the National Town Meeting, a student activist organization at SIUE.

Rule change vote key to rights amendment in state

Press-Record Springfield Bureau — The key to approval of the Equal Rights Amendment in Illinois will be Wednesday's vote on the proposed rule change in the Senate. "If the rule change is not passed," one observer says, "ERA will never be ratified in Illinois."

Supporters of ERA (women's rights) are focusing their efforts on three Republicans who favor ERA but who are opposed to changing the rules. Without the support of the trio of Republicans, the rule change is not likely to pass and ERA will probably not even be called for a vote.

A provision in the 1970 state constitution states that a three-fifths vote of both chambers is necessary for approval of proposed amendments to the U.S. Constitution.

The last time an amendment to the U.S. Constitution was approved in Illinois was in June 1971, days before the new state constitution became effective. That amendment gave 18-year-olds the right to vote.

When ERA was called for a vote in 1972, Paul Simon, at that time lieutenant governor and the presiding officer, declared that only a majority was needed for passage.

ERA supporters filed a lawsuit challenging the three-fifths requirement. The court ruled the House and the Senate can make their own rules that apply to ratification of constitutional amendments.

Later, the Senate adopted rules requiring a three-fifths vote for approval of constitutional amendments. The difference in the simple majority versus three-fifths rule is six votes — and when ERA is discussed, it's a crucial six votes.

Proponents are hopeful they can obtain 30 votes for ERA in the Senate, but they think there is no chance whatsoever of getting 36 votes. Thus, the vote Wednesday on the rules becomes crucial.

Senate President Phil Rock figures he has 26 or 27 Democrats who will support the 30-vote rule for ERA. There are 32 Democrats in the Senate. Of the 27 Republicans in the Senate, however, apparently only one is committed to supporting the 30-vote rule. He is Jack Schaffer of Crystal Lake.

Three freshman Republicans — Lynn Martin of Rockford, Adeline Go-Karis of Zion and Aldo DeAngelis of Chicago Heights — are committed to ERA. But they favor the 30-vote rule. Supporters of ERA are zeroing in on the three because they think a commitment to vote for ERA is worthless without the 30-vote rule.

Jim Thompson supports the 30-vote rule, and is urging GOP senators to vote for it. When ERA failed in the House last year, Thompson became the target of severe criticism from ERA supporters because he was unsuccessful in converting more Republicans to vote for it.

Even if the Senate would adopt the 30-vote rule and approve ERA, ratification of the amendment would still be in doubt because of last year's House action. But proponents are optimistic they could obtain three-fifths in the House if they could just get the 30-vote rule approved in the Senate.

Illinois is considered crucial in the national picture because only three more states need to ratify the amendment for it to become a part of the U.S. Constitution.

ERA supporters filed a lawsuit challenging the three-fifths requirement. The court ruled the House and the Senate can make their own rules that apply to ratification of constitutional amendments.

Dismal week for SIUE — no gym, no link to board

Last week's news regarding Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville wasn't exactly encouraging. The Illinois Board of Higher Education approved a priority list blocking funds this year for the long-delayed physical education building needed by the local university.

And the SIUB board inserted a chancellor position between itself and the SIUE and SIUC presidents, who no longer will report directly to the trustees. This plan, step backward, could further submerge the university here in its relationships and "clout" with the already too numerous layers of decision-making that separate it from the public, and that nearly smother rather than inspire innovation and excellence.

"Don't do it," SIUE President Shaw advised, summing up the views and wishes of many thousands of Illinoisans. "Drop dead," in effect, was the board's response as it rushed to a vote without giving citizens any time whatever to respond.

After that kind of a week, it is just as well that the Lincoln's birthday holiday today is observed with a more high-level, high-handed rulings by higher education authorities. Unfortunately, "business as usual" will be resumed tomorrow.

Circuit Judge William "Bill" Johnson heard the case.

There was discussion between the judge and Harry E. Hartman, city attorney, as to which section of the Illinois statutes would best solve the impasse, one referring to a "temporary mayor" and one dealing with an "acting mayor."

It was agreed that the "acting mayor" statute would apply, as a 4-3 vote by the council could unseat a "temporary mayor" at any time.

Attorney David H. Adamson III represented Brown and Smith.

Judge Johnson ordered that the selection be decided by a majority vote, and recessed to allow the council to decide the method of choosing.

All eight aldermen were sworn in to testify if they wished, and were asked to sit where the jury normally would be.

When Judge Johnson asked if any of the aldermen would care to say anything, Alderman George Mangiaracino said, "In the past we have appointed the oldest alderman. I was nominated and Mr. Echols was nominated."

"After several meetings, we came to the conclusion that they would not have anything to do with me, so we got (Alderman Harry) Buentge and he won a coin toss."

"The other evening (Tuesday), we tried to vote to flip a coin but they would not go along with it," Mangiaracino said.

Alderman Echols, addressing Judge Johnson, said, "We did agree to a coin toss with Mr. Buentge and he won. I feel the gentlemen (who) do to after Alderman Buentge resigned was to feel the position to the loser, since the original winner had to resign for health reasons."

Echols is a candidate for mayor of Venice and Daniels is a candidate for alderman in the April 1 election. Milton Morris, another mayor candidate, was present.

Third Ward Alderman John Ervin, addressing the court, verbally attacked Daniels on the grounds of inexperience in city government and said that he might be drawing three salaries — a volunteer fireman, alderman and mayor. Daniels was appointed to the City Council Dec. 19.

Daniels replied that if he won he would not take the salary as alderman, but would accept that of mayor and also as a volunteer fireman. Daniels referred to state statutes that he intended to sue for not being in conflict in accepting a volunteer fireman's and mayor's salary.

Prior to ordering the lost case, Judge Johnson recessed the court for about 45 minutes while he reviewed documents submitted by the city.

Daniels' first act after being declared alderman was to ask the court to sign paychecks for bridge and city employees.

Bridge employees should have been paid on Feb. 2 and city employees on Feb. 7. They could not be paid without a mayor's signature.

Although all the city council votes over the past several weeks on the issue of who would be acting mayor, following the Jan. 1 resignation of former William Ebersoldt, have been divided between the First-Second and Third-Fourth wards.

Daniels insisted the disagreement is not a racial issue.

Alderman Echols said, "Although I am disappointed about losing the second time, I am not mad at anyone and will work with Alderman Daniels for the best interest of all the people in Venice, both black and white."

"We have a good city and we can't let the events of the past few weeks do

Group continues control of church

By margins of about 2-1 to nearly 3-1, board members previously elected on July 23, 1978, who support the Rev. Peter Stamboldjev were re-elected at the annual meeting Sunday afternoon of Holy Trinity Bulgarian Eastern Orthodox Church, Madison.

About 185 votes were cast. Six auditors were also re-elected Sunday.

Those elected to the church board are: John Mangoff, Ruth Geroff, Elaine Shipoff, Don Reeves, Daisy Painter, Olga Taroff, John Belleoff, Sylvia Andreoff, Nada Henson, Ernest Elifoff, John Londoff and Christ Costoff.

Auditing committee members elected were: Elizabeth Yankoff, Antonia Layloff, Vasil Vasiloff, Steve Skoff, Donna Reeves and Jordan Spiroff.

Officers of the church will be selected by the board from among the members. Londoff is currently the board president.

Craig A. Taroff, spokesman for a defeated slate, which included many former board members removed by Bishop Simeon of Akron, Ohio, complained that the agenda was not followed and that the church's interest in the Communist government was an official state church.

Taroff also raised questions about a possible Communist Party takeover attempt, since in Bulgaria the church is supported by the Communist government and is an official state church.

Prior to the meeting, several unsigned "poison pen" letters had been sent to members of the church attacking the board that has just been elected.

Officers of the church, in addition to the attorney for the church.

She started to call police and the robber said, "Put down the phone or I will shoot you. He threw blankets over her head, and took her wallet containing personal papers and $38 in cash.

He was described as about five foot nine inches tall, medium build, wearing a black leather coat and a dark cap.

Iran toppled; fuel crisis?

Protests are increasing over a presidential order to renounce the U.S. in federal buildings and offices to 65 degrees during the day and 55 at night. But more curfew hours have been called.

Calling the loss of oil from Iran — where backers of Ayatollah Khomeini toppled a U.S.-backed government — potentially more serious than the 1973 Arab oil embargo, the Carter administration foresees a return to gasoline station lines and Sunday station closings.

AWAIT MISS AMERICA: Kylene Barker, Miss America, will be crowned photos at the Collinsville Schmucks Super Center, 501 Belltown Road, Friday from 1:30 p.m. to 3 p.m.

REMODEL LIQUOR STORE: A $60,000 building permit has been issued by Granite City to Dennis Meyers on behalf of Charles Hester Enterprises to remodel the former Smith's Joe's Liquor Store, Namekiki Road and St. Clair Avenue.

The store is to be used for a new package liquor store, when completed.

CB AUTO BURGLARY: Scott Wiesehan, 2817 Ralph St., discovered that between 1 p.m. and 8 p.m. Friday, while his car was parked at 1416 Niedringhaus Ave., it was entered by thieves and a 25-channel citizen band radio with a power mike was stolen. Value of the CB was estimated at $40.

He said he found ahead of time he won't be mayor long, as the people will be choosing a new mayor in just a few weeks.

"I will do the best job I can while mayor. And I'm sure that now that this is settled, the council will work well together, as it always has in the past."

Daniels was appointed as an alderman by former Mayor Ebersoldt to fill the vacancy created by his resignation. He had moved out of the city. The entire council concurred with the aldermanic appointment of Daniels.

Voter drive in Venice, Madison

The Madison County NAACP branch and the Venice Civic League are cooperating in organizing a voter registration drive in the Venice and Madison areas.

A public meeting will be held on Wednesday at the North Venice Democratic Clubhouse, 109 Weaver St., Venice, at 7 p.m.

"We are asking persons interested in helping — and interested in the future of this area — to come out and join us," Mrs. Barbara Harrell said.

News notes

Illinois labor unions ended the 1978 campaign of Gov. James R. Thompson (R) with gifts of more than $100,000, a total higher than they contributed to Michael Bakalis (D), whom Thompson defeated.

Final deadline to display 1979 Illinois auto license is Feb. 28. The federal income tax filing deadline is April 15.

Snow has remained on the ground here continuously for 43 days, still 28 days short of the record. Above-freezing weather Sunday and last night dropped into the 20s this morning.

Wholesale prices for finished goods rose 1.3 percent in January, biggest monthly increase since November 1974.

The Bi-State Development Agency last week dropped a project to convert trash into electricity. Financial consultants said the project would break even or show a profit. The agency will study building smaller plants to generate steam from trash.

Secretary of State Alan J. Dixon said Friday he will reduce the number of employees on his staff for the elective term by 150 by the end of 1979.

Bills filed in the Illinois General Assembly would change primary elections from March to May, cut the license plate fee in half for senior citizens, reduce the size of the legislature, and stop charges for phone directory assistance.

The local Order of the Arrow district will host its annual benefit pancake and sausage breakfast on Saturday, March 4, at St. Elizabeth School. Tickets are being sold at the door and also in advance at the Boy Scout office, 2016 Delmar Ave.

R. Dron Electrical Co. of Granite City has been awarded a $94,752 contract to install a "following too closely" monitor system on Interstate 270 at three locations between the Mississippi River and Illinois Route 111.

State Rep. Jim McPike is asking Gov. Thompson to seek the resignation of SIU trustees for allegedly violating the state open meetings law. He plans legislation to restore previous authority to the SIUE and SIUC presidents.

Many professors and students opposed the SIU board's decision Thursday to place a chancellor between the trustees and campus presidents. SIUE Pres. Kenneth Shaw urged the board, "Don't do it."

Services will be held Wednesday at a Westview funeral home, with burial at St. John Cemetery, Granite City.

BROTHER OF IVAN HARRISON DIES: Ivan F. Harrison, 2562 Cleveland Blvd., was informed that his brother, Dr. O. S. Harrison, 75, of Athens, Ga., died Friday.

Until his retirement, he was a professor at the University of Georgia College. Burial was at Athens.

where they nicknamed him "Gung Ho." She said she notified Cooper, "We want Kenall out," and stated Kenall soon was transferred to another area.

Mrs. Young also testified she called Gryzwacz during the day-long raid and was asked, "Gung Ho, I didn't know anything about it. I'll get back to you." That night he called her husband and said Maeras had been out of town, it was asserted.

The payoffs then were reduced to $70 a week and Gryzwacz assured her that she and her husband would be reimbursed for all expenses incurred by them due to the raid, she testified.

When the tavern reopened a few weeks later under the name the Padock Lounge, it remained open only 10 days before Deputy Sgt. James Burns and other deputies raided it a second time and put it out of business permanently, she said.

Mrs. Young said she subsequently pleaded guilty to filing a fraudulent income tax form and is serving three years of probation.

She said she was testifying under an agreement with federal prosecutors that she would be immune from prosecution for anything about which she testified.

She also said that she formerly was a prostitute.

Mrs. Young estimated she paid Cooper and Gryzwacz about $10,000 to $12,000 in payoffs.

The jury also heard five other witnesses during Friday's session.

Gail Oatman of Collinsville, a friend of the Youngs, testified she admitted Cooper and "Ron" to the Youngs' home, allegedly when they first asked for the payoffs. After the two left, Mr. and Mrs. Young were "very uptight," she testified.

She said that once she drove Mrs. Young's car to the tavern and said Gryzwacz yelled at her, calling Out, "Kitty." She said Mrs. Young was in the hospital and Gryzwacz asked her to tell Walter that Ron is waiting outside."

Mrs. Oatman testified she gave Mr. Young the message and he went to the cash register, took out a white envelope and went outside with it.

Mrs. Young's daughter, Robin, 11, testified that when she was about 11 years old, Cooper and Gryzwacz came to their home in Collinsville and met with her parents on a glassed-in porch. She recalled that her father yelled in an angry voice, "We won't pay," and she remembered the figure $500 being mentioned.

She also remembered that her father regularly sat at the dining room table and put some money into an envelope on which her mother would write the word, "Man."

BAC library is open to all

Belleville Area College's library has been made available to all residents of the district.

Use of the library has been granted to anyone above the age of 16 who resides in Community College District 322. A map of the district is available by calling the public information office of the college—235-2700, ext. 238.

A library card is required, but is free to district residents, who include Quad-Cityans.

Out-of-district residents may also obtain a card for a $5 fee. Cards are obtained at the circulation desk in the library, located on the second floor of the main college campus, 2500 Carlyle Road.

Although the library has always been open for the use of district residents on-site, the campus students had been able to check out material previously.

Library hours are 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. each Monday through Thursday and 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. each Friday. The library is closed on Saturdays, Sundays and school holidays.

Sheriff discharges Harold Bradshaw

Madison County Sheriff Emil Toffant, who attended nearly every session of the trial of former sheriff John Maeras, Capt. John Cooper and fund-raiser Leland Stoller in Alton last week, told the Press-Record Friday of the trial that he fired a sheriff's department employee who admitted in court Thursday that he had accepted money from the owner of a house of prostitution.

Harold Bradshaw of Alton, a former deputy who recently has been employed part-time at the sheriff's department service station, testified that he had accepted money from Myrene Stewart, former operator of Myrene's Steakhouse in Alton, with the understanding that he would give him $10 or $15 occasionally for gasoline money or as a favor.

Bradshaw said Mrs. Stewart would give him $10 or $15 occasionally for gasoline money or as a favor.

Bradshaw's firing immediately after the trial session Thursday, Bradshaw, who works weekends at the garage, was notified Friday not to report for work this weekend.

City zoning meetings

The Granite City Board of Appeals and Plan Commission will meet this week.

The Board of Appeals will meet at 1:15 p.m. Wednesday to consider two requests. Lois Sharp, 2127 Illinois Ave., is seeking permission to construct a storage shed two feet from his side property line. Bob Gwin, 2653 Adams St., is seeking permission to construct a garage two feet from his side property line.

The Granite City Plan Commission will meet at 7 p.m. Thursday to consider five requests.

Frank Champion, 2445 Pontoon Road, is requesting a special use permit for the operation of a wedding and party supply shop in his home.

William Seebold, 2401 Lincoln St., is requesting a special use permit for the storage of boats.

Rite Electric Co. is requesting a zoning change from R-4 residential to C-1 commercial for property at 2167 Lee Ave.

St. Gregory's Armenian Apostolic Church is requesting a zoning change from R-2 residential to R-5 multi-family residential on property located on West Pontoon Road near The Commodores.

Services will be held Wednesday at a Westview funeral home, with burial at St. John Cemetery, Granite City.

The Lighter Side

Turnabout is fair play

Valentine's Day is just two days off and all of you ladies are expecting to be spoiled with all sorts of goodies. I have pondered this great American custom and would like to suggest that turnabout is fair play.

In this time of the liberated woman, it seems to me that we girls, especially we working girls, should send our men the heart-shaped box and a few long-stemmed roses on Valentine's Day.

Can you imagine the reaction? How pleased would your sweetheart be to find such a surprise awaiting him as he entered his place of work? Of course, most of the fellows I know wouldn't relish the idea of receiving some of the nice little things that we gals get. I received a velvet-lined jewelry box one year for Valentine's Day and a heart-shaped necklace the next.

But every man likes to know that he is loved. Most men really do like candy and flowers, even if they won't admit it. Since the two are symbolic of love, the gentlemen should get them from we gals.

I tried it. I sent candy and flowers to my husband one Valentine's Day. He liked it. These days, he is of the opinion that turnabout is not only fair play, it is his right as a liberated man. So I send him candy a lot. The flowers are reserved for very special occasions, and Valentine's Day is very special.

So, ladies, instead of waiting to be treated to all of the Valentine's goodies, why not send out a few?

I can see it all now. Bouquets and sweets being delivered to all of the fellows. On desks, on counter tops, in trucks and atop telephone poles, all of our hard-working men getting their "I love you" on Valentine's Day.

After all, the guys deserve a break once in a while. Keeps them feeling fine.

'Roni' Harrison to retire

Mrs. Derona "Roni" Harrison will retire Feb. 28 after 21 years service in cafeteria work with the Granite City School District. Currently, she holds the position of kitchen manager at Granite City High School North. She has been assigned to the newer of the two local high schools for the past six years.

To honor Mrs. Harrison, a group of co-workers and friends arranged a dinner party last week at Charlie's Restaurant. Among those attending were Lillian McKinney, Bertha Boone, Gladys Campbell, Alma Sedabres, Marguerite Warren, Barbara Fulmer, Betty Sue Gay, Mary Cory, Joyce Brokman, Maxie Stamps, Peggy Hefner, Isabelle Burdett and Dorothy Pettoff, Virginia

Owens, Mary Merz, June Heet, Ellen Dean and Ollie Derr.

Mrs. Harrison spent 12 years in the cafeteria at Prather Junior High School and three years at Granite City High School South before joining the North High staff.

She and her husband, Raymond, live at 2203 Nevada Ave. He is retired from General Steel Industries.

The Harrisons are the parents of three sons: Clayton "Jug" Harrison and Oren Harrison, both of Granite City, and John Harrison of Omaha, Neb. They also have two daughters, Mrs. Ollie Derr of Granite City and Mrs. Lou (Anna Mae) King of Denver, Colo. 11 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Assessment cutback filing ends Thursday

Residents of Chouteau Township are being reminded today by Town Clerk Patricia Polley that this is the final week to apply for the assessment cutback of up to $1,500 by property owners who live in single family residences and who received assessment increases for the 1978 year.

Applications for the reduction may be filed through Thursday, Feb. 15, by Chouteau Township residents and those in all other Illinois townships.

Appropriate forms are available at Chouteau Township office, 697 North Thorngate Drive, Monday through Thursday, between the hours of 9 a.m. and 12 noon and from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m., Mrs. Polley said.

Under the new state law, any homeowner, regardless of age or income, whose assessment was increased during the 1978 year, as compared with the 1977 assessment, may recover any part of the increase up to a total of $1,500.

The $1,500 is an established limit for a four-year period. Whatever the amount cut back during 1979, the balance will remain for use in the remaining three years. Residents of other townships also may apply to their township tax assessor for application forms.

Frohardt jamboree

The Frohardt School PTA is planning a public "country jamboree" Friday, Feb. 16, from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Craft items made by each class will be offered for sale. Also planned are an attic treasures booth, a coupon walk, game booths for children, and a sweet shop with sweets for sale. The cafeteria will have sandwiches, desserts and beverages for sale.

Another special feature sponsored by the PTA Friday evening will be an art student from North High. Chris Rogenski will draw and sell caricatures of individuals.

At 7:30 an auction is planned, with Richard Oliver serving as auctioneer. John Fuhrman is the PTA president.

Charter issued

Secretary of State Alan J. Dixon has announced the issuance of a domestic corporation charter to J & H Energy Systems Inc. President of the corporation is Herman Schroeder, 4700 Nameoki Road.

Listed as charterers are Schroeder and John Blasingame. Also listed are 1,000 shares of common stock with no par value.

DANA BROWN, internationally known wild animal photographer and big game hunter, will be in Madison Wednesday, Feb. 28, to speak about his adventures in the remote areas of Africa and Asia. Brown will be the guest of Explorer Post 10-4 at the group's 10th Anniversary family night dinner, to be held in the Madison Memorial Center.

Dana Brown to speak at Explorer dinner

Dana Brown, hunter and big game photographer, will be the guest speaker at the Explorer Post 10-4 annual family night dinner on Wednesday, Feb. 28, in the Madison Memorial Center.

Post 10-4 is celebrating its 10th year, and has held a "family night" dinner on the fourth Wednesday of February, which is National Scout Month, for the past nine years.

Brown has been making yearly and twice-yearly trips to Africa and Asia for the past 24 years, hunting and photographing the most remote areas of the two continents.

His adventures have included a safari in the center of the Sahara desert; countries like Ubangi Shari and Chad (formerly French Africa), Ruanda Uranda, home of the Watutsi famous in King Solomon's Mines and Seven Wonders of the World; the Belgian Congo, including a visit to the long headed red forest people of the Northeast Congo, never before photographed.

His travels have taken him to the forest bushman of Southwest Africa, never before photographed, and to new countries like Batswana formerly Bechuanaland, plus the Central African Republic in Uganda, which is no longer accessible because of Communist terrorists.

He accepted an assignment from the king of Nepal to hunt man-eating tigers in Western Nepal.

The first assignment lasted two seasons for a single man-eater.

After successfully hunting down and eliminating the menace, Brown was permitted, by the king, to hunt and photograph Western Nepal, which he did for five additional seasons.

No other American has ever been permitted to hunt tigers in Nepal as they are royal game, accessible only to this king or to his guests.

For the past 18 years, Brown has been taking a professional photographer with him on these trips and has developed some of the finest safari films in existence.

He has the only authentic pictures of man-eating or killer tigers. Brown has hunted and photographed every major game animal in Asia and Africa.

This includes rare game such as the great forest hog, greater kudu, sable antelope, roan antelope, gemsbok of the Kalahari desert, the white anyx of the Sahara desert, the addax and the rare dromedary of the Sahara.

Dangerous game includes rogue elephants, lions, leopard, the African cape buffalo of the Congo, man-eating tigers and Asiatic wild boars. Brown has photographed, but will never shoot black or white rhino.

Brown is in the coffee business. He heads Private Brands, Inc., and relates his "Safari Land" adventures in his media commercials.

Burglar quiets dog to ransack

A burglar fed a dog meat from the refrigerator to keep the animal quiet while the home of Everett Cottrell, 2828 Sunset Drive, was systematically searched room by room, it was reported last week.

A window frame in a door was pried off to reach the inside lock and gain entry. Drawers, cabinets and closets, even decorative canisters, in every room were ransacked and most of the contents were thrown on the floor.

Items from the bedroom closets and drawers were emptied onto the bed, which had been moved.

An inventory was being taken to determine what items are missing.

STEALS WINE

Someone threw a piece of concrete through a window at Sullies Package Liquor store, 2650 Washington Ave., reached into the opening and stole four bottles of wine worth $15, John Lesko reported Thursday. Damage to the window was estimated at $200.

St. Patrick's Day stamp cancellation

The U.S. Postal Service will provide a special cancellation on St. Patrick's Day at St. Patrick, Mo., in celebration of the town's 150th anniversary.

St. Patrick, a small community claiming a population of 53 residents, is located in northeast Missouri, five miles off Highway 61 and approximately 50 miles north of Hannibal.

As an annual event to celebrate St. Patrick's Day, the citizens will have a special Mass at the Shrine of St. Patrick's Catholic Church followed by a dinner and dance. The highlight of the evening will be the crowning of a St. Patrick's Day Queen.

Anyone interested in obtaining the special cancellation, which will feature the Irish Shamrock with hat and pipe, may send a self-addressed stamped envelope to: Postmaster, St. Patrick, Mo., 63466 before March 17, 1979.

A special cancel envelope may also be ordered for a cost of 50 cents that will include the stamp and cancellation.

The cancellation was designed by James Stinebaker, a letter carrier at the St. Louis Post Office.

Hurt in mishap
 Diane G. Strubberg, 21, of 2303 Bryan Ave., sustained bruises to the head at 3:30 p.m. Thursday, when she crossed Niedringhaus Avenue, near Walnut Street, at the rear of a halted car and became trapped between it and a second vehicle that was unable to stop in time.

Police said Gary A. Willis of East Alton had halted his westbound auto at the stop sign at Walnut when Miss Strubberg attempted to cross the road behind the vehicle.

The woman apparently slipped on the ice covered road and fell between the Willis car and an oncoming vehicle, driven by Robert L. Williams of St. Louis, and became trapped bumping her head.

She was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where she was treated for bruises to the head and admitted for observation.

Bricklayers elect; honor 2

Bricklayers Local 65 of Southwest Illinois has elected officers to new three-year terms and honored two members for "outstanding service."

Hal Worrell was elected Local 65 president. Members saluted Fred Law, arbitration board secretary, and George Slay, a brick contractor who is retiring. Slay is a member of the local's pension board.

Other officers elected to three-year terms are: Lloyd Heflin, vice president, Bob Weis, business manager, Ed Jacobs, financial secretary, Bill Lefler, correspondence secretary, Alan Gasparovic, treasurer, Fred Law, board secretary, Charlie Hicks and Ron Jacobs, board members, and H. A. Ross, Dane Gray and Bruce Lattimore, trustees.

In a special ceremony, Law was presented a plaque commemorating 25 years of service as an officer of Local 65.

During this time, it was noted, Law has held various offices in the union, including those of trustee, arbitration board member, vice president, vacation committee member, apprentice instructor and arbitration board secretary, an office he has held continuously since 1966.

The engraved plaque cited Law for the "highest degree of efficiency and excellence, placing always the advancement of his union as his first priority."

"His work, dedication and leadership shall never be forgotten by the officers and members of Bricklayers Local 65."

Honors were accorded to Slay, a brick contractor in this area for 25 years, by the board of trustees of the Southwest Illinois Pension and Health and Welfare Fund.

Slay has served as a contractor member of the pension board since its inception in 1970 and was instrumental in the establishment of a pension fund for area bricklayers.

The plaque presented to Slay cited him for the above and noted that as a "contractor member of Bricklayers Local 65 for some 27 years, (Slay) has always placed quality above quantity, and union craftsmen as the ultimate of trades."

"Your buildings stand as a living monument of your character — strong, true and everlasting," the citation reads.

Appointed officers named at the meeting, are:

Greg Martin, business agent, H. A. Ross and Bill Sloan, administrators, Bill Murphy, trial board chairman, Ray Roberts, trial board secretary, Roy Hutton, trial board member, and Jack Heflin and Bill Ballard, apprentice instructors.

GRANITE CITY TRUST AND SAVINGS BANK

At the bank we periodically take a long look at our everyday business practices... our philosophy of doing business in this community. We cast a hard eye at the steps we routinely take to protect confidential information, borrowing and lending practices, and business dealings with customers.

The cornerstone of the bank must be the integrity and the knowledge that its only debt is to its depositors, stockholders, and the community, a debt which we always hold as a sacred obligation. Our reputation for integrity is our most valuable asset, and it is based on the conduct of our officers and other employees. That's why our periodic introspective look includes our own outside activities. We believe our friends and customers deserve a bank in which they can have total confidence, and we work to earn that confidence.

A good bank is built on more than financial expertise. It is built also on integrity and customer confidence... you can BANK on it!

This Valentine's Day give the unexpected... an ice cream cake Valentine. We'll decorate it with rose buds and your personal message.

Real Estate for Sale 2

INVESTMENTS IN REAL ESTATE

One of the best investments a person can make is to buy Real Estate (Residential, commercial, or industrial). On rental property you make money in three ways. 1st, the difference between the rent and the mortgage payments; 2nd, the amount the mortgage is paid down each month; and 3rd, the increasing value of the property each year. Not to mention the tax advantages. So if you are sincerely interested in investing in Real Estate, I would like to talk to you and show you some examples. I have had rental property for the last 20 years, hold a Real Estate Broker's license. No obligation, gimmicks, or get rich quick schemes. Just solid investments. For more information call:

INFLATION UP?? NO!!

NOT AT BERT'S. WHETHER YOU NEED SERVICE ON A TV OR A NEW TV... SEE BERT'S FIRST FOR QUALITY THAT WILL LAST!

Our service personnel has many years of experience... Wilbur (30 years), Bert (30 years), Paul (30 years), Bill (22 years), Wayne (12 years), and no other video business can match it! We can fix any TV if it's economical to you!

OUR TRIP CHARGE WAS $19.95 NOW $14.95

WE HAVE THE ONLY SET IN AMERICA WITH A 4 YEAR LIMITED WARRANTY COVERING 100% LABOR, PARTS, AND PICTURE TUBE... CURTIS MATHES!

That's right! Not just one year parts and picture tube, and 90 days labor like RCA, Zenith, G.E., or Sylvania. Even after the warranty expires, it's good to know that CM is totally modular. You pay only 1/6 the cost of maintenance over the aforementioned brands. Plus your TV can be fixed in your home.

THE INSIDE STORY ON YEAR
'ROUND SAVINGS & COMFORT

The worst winter most people can remember. Record-breaking snowfalls. Record-breaking low temperatures. And then the energy crisis all over again. Less energy available. Higher prices—and going higher. More severe winters and higher energy prices predicted far into the future.

Homeowners are concerned. Larger and larger portions of their incomes are going to keep them warm—and turning the thermostat down is getting to be standard procedure. Homeowners are looking for ways to conserve energy and maintain the comfort level in their homes. And they're looking for results they can benefit from NOW!

SAVE

THE ORIGINAL THERMAL WINDOW

This original custom-made window has been proven through outstanding performance in tens-of-thousands of homes . . . many of them in your area.

NU-SASH is far more than a "window business" leader . . . it's people who provide personal attention to your needs, skilled craftsmen who install each window that has been custom measured and manufactured for your home. NU-SASH people are neighbors who follow through, and . . . only NU-SASH replacement windows offer all these important features and options. Ask how these features save you money!

...FOR IMPORTANT SAVINGS COMFORT, BEAUTY

Replacing old, loose windows in your home can mean important savings. You can significantly reduce your ever-increasing heating costs by controlling the infiltration of cold air and loss of costly heat through old, loose frames and sash. You'll save in upkeep . . . no more paint or putty on your windows . . . less dust means less cleaning. It all adds up to saving important money . . . and your home can be more comfortable . . . warmer in winter, cooler in summer, cleaner and quieter.

With sparkling, snug new NU-SASH windows, your home will be more beautiful inside and out and . . . be more valuable.

ACCEPTED AND PROVEN

Acceptance and proof goes beyond satisfied customers. NU-SASH is nationally advertised in leading magazines. NU-SASH is a member of organizations requiring a high degree of manufacturing and product excellence . . . SIGMA (Sealed Insulating Glass Manufacturers Association), AAMA (Architectural Aluminum Manufacturers Association).
